INDIANA. - We have received several letters and communications from Indiana, urging the election of the Republican candidate for the erly, and is, in the beautiful l Governmenhip in October. Some of them are from gentlemen for whom we cherish a high regard, hut our views are very different from those which they express. The Republican eandidate for the Governorship of Indiana is no doubt an excellent man, we presume he is a patriot in his feelings, and we should not particularly deprecato his election but for the important fact that it would in all human probability, sn far as Indiana is concerned, exert a great and even a controlling influence upon the far more momentous election in November. Let the Republican party be beuten in with joy unbounded.

Thank heaven, our political frieads in Indiana, the Bell and Everett men of that State. tho men devoted to the Union, the Coustitution, and the Enforcement of the Laws, have the power to bring about this exceedingly desirable result. They can beat the Republican by heating him, render certain the defeat, not only in Indiana but throughout the country, of Mr. Bell. Ardently as we have always battled against the Democratic party and its principles, we should, if wo were now a citizen of Indiana, feel greater zeal and put forth more defeat of Mr. Lane for the Governorship than truggle in our own State, that for the electio caus. It cannot, as the Augusta Sentinel says.

d in to avoid these consequences, unless should encounter them. Very few men, we presume, will have the hardihood to say that there are any enuses now existing which impe riously require a destruction of the governmen rity of the Republic. It is eminently a dan-tion ever done? Has it not rather done harm. tional hatred, it has nlichated hearts which should have been fraternal, it has produced strife continually, it has built up a strong secis stration, it has finally disrupted the great National Democratic party, and now threatens to disrupt the Republic. Yes, this day the Uaion hangs trembling in the balance, and within six months we may all be irresstibly drawn into the bloody writex of civil war. In the name of common sense, has not this agitation goue far enough? Shall it not ecase, and exest forever? Have we not arrived at that point in our history, where it becomes the duty of all national men, regardless of past differences on nother issues, to stand dopother, on some common basis, as The National Party of the Union, thus months we may all of course give to the Norfolk questions. Are we to understand from this pointed commendation that the "answers" also of the Yeoman sense. Also not the "quotation" are the "answers" also of the Yeoman sense of God, in the name of our country, in the name of common sense, has not this agitation goue far enough? Shall it not ecase, and exest forever? Have we not arrived at that point in our history, where it becomes the duty of all national men, regardless of past differences on nother issues, to stand dopother, on some common basis, as The National Party of the Union, the Norfolk questions and proving the opposite answer, and in commending the whole proceeding to our consideration after the whole pro

Peace to our country?

Our Indiana friends will of course give to our counsel whatever consideration they think it justly emitted to. We speak as a pairtot to patriots. We speak to them in such an exigency as we have never before known in the affairs of our country. They, holding the latter the restriction will be understood as speak to them to avert, in October, an event which the millions upon millions would regard as a terrible national eastanity.

This was refused. He, however, with the persistence of a liver, pressed his suit, and findly the lady made her eppearance, closely muffled in a duble veil. At the sound of her vuice the Count rushed forward to embrace her, but stepping aside she tremblingly told him the story of her sorrows, and hurst into tears. A heavenly saile broke over the Count's handsome features, as, rusing his hands above, he exclaimed, "It is God's work—I am blind!"
